

SPECTATION

Meaning: SPECTATION: The act of observing or watching, particularly in the context of an event or performance.

1. The artist's latest installation invites spectators to engage in deep reflection and contemplation.
2. Her expectations for the performance were high, leading to an overwhelming sense of anticipation among the spectators.
3. As the lights dimmed, the spectators leaned forward, eager to witness the unfolding drama on stage.
4. In the world of sports, the thrill of competition often ignites a shared sense of expectation among the spectators.
5. The festival attracted a diverse group of spectators, all drawn by the promise of unique cultural experiences.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spectation>