

SPERMOLOGIST

Meaning: A spermatologist is a scientist who specializes in the study of sperm cells and their role in reproduction across different species.

1. A spermatologist meticulously studies the structure and function of sperm cells in various species.
2. The conference featured a renowned spermatologist who shared groundbreaking research on fertility and reproductive health.
3. As a spermatologist, her expertise was invaluable in understanding the impacts of environmental factors on sperm quality.
4. He decided to pursue a career as a spermatologist after being fascinated by the complexities of human reproduction in his biology classes.
5. The journal published an article authored by a spermatologist that highlighted the importance of sperm preservation techniques in wildlife conservation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spermatologist>