

SPIRANT

Meaning: A spirant is a type of consonant sound produced with continuous airflow through a narrow opening, often resulting in a fricative quality.

1. The linguist explained how the term 'spirant' refers to a specific type of consonant sound.
2. In phonetics, a spirant is characterized by a continuous airflow through a narrow opening.
3. Some languages feature spirants that can change pronunciation depending on their position in a word.
4. The study highlighted the role of spirants in differentiating between similar-sounding words.
5. Her research focused on the historical development of spirants in the Germanic language family.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spirant>