

SPIT

Meaning: SPIT (verb): To eject saliva or food from the mouth, often suddenly or forcefully.

1. She accidentally spat out a piece of food while laughing at the joke.
2. The chef instructed us to spit out any bitter ingredients before serving the dish.
3. In the heat of the moment, he couldn't help but spit his words out in frustration.
4. The children watched in awe as the magician seemed to spit fire from his mouth.
5. After the long run, he needed to spit out the water he had accidentally swallowed.
6. He accidentally spat on the ground while trying to emphasize his point.
7. The chef instructed us to spit out the seeds before adding the tomatoes to the sauce.
8. As the sun set, the campfire crackled while we watched the embers spit into the night sky.
9. She tried to hold back her laughter, but a snort escaped her lips, making her friend spit out his drink.
10. In the heat of the moment, he couldn't help but spit out a few harsh words he later regretted.
11. He watched as the chef expertly spit-roasted the chicken over an open flame.
12. After the argument, she couldn't help but spit out a few harsh words in anger.
13. The dog was so excited that it began to spit and drool all over the floor.
14. He made a point to spit out the gum before entering the meeting.
15. As the rain began to fall, the children ran outside to catch the droplets on their tongues, playfully pretending to spit them back at each other.
16. He watched as the chef expertly spit the roasted meat over the open flame.
17. In a moment of frustration, she spat out her words, not caring for the consequences.
18. The children giggled as they attempted to spit watermelon seeds across the yard.
19. With a sudden burst of anger, he spat on the ground, letting his emotions out.
20. The dragon's fiery breath made it seem as if it could spit fire at any moment.
21. The chef instructed the students to spit out any food they found unpalatable.

22. As the sun set, the campers gathered around the fire to roast marshmallows and spit out the charred bits.
23. In a fit of anger, he couldn't help but spit a few harsh words at his opponent.
24. The children eagerly watched the performer as he could spit flames into the air.
25. After tasting the sour lemonade, she couldn't help but spit it out in disgust.
26. She watched in disgust as he spat on the ground.
27. The chef instructed her to let the meat spit and sizzle in the hot pan.
28. After a long hike, he sat down and took a drink, then accidentally let out a small spit that splattered on his shirt.
29. The children giggled as they tried to see who could spit the watermelon seed the farthest.
30. In the intense heat, the campfire began to spit embers into the night sky.

*Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com
<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spit>*