

SPITOUSLY

Meaning: Spitously: in a manner characterized by disgust or revulsion, often involving spitting out something unpleasant.

1. She spat out the drink spitously, unable to tolerate its bitter taste.
2. The child reacted spitously to the medicine, wrinkling her nose in disgust.
3. He spoke spitously, his disdain for the topic evident in every word.
4. After hearing the news, she replied spitously, showing her irritation clearly.
5. The dog growled spitously at the stranger, sensing a threat in the air.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spitously>