

SPITTED

Meaning: SPITTED: the past tense of spit, meaning to eject saliva or other substances from the mouth forcefully.

1. He spat out the bitter taste of medicine that lingered in his mouth.
2. The angry child spat at the ground in frustration, refusing to apologize.
3. She accidentally spat her drink across the table when she laughed unexpectedly.
4. After the argument, he spat out a few harsh words that he instantly regretted.
5. The dog spat out the stick it had been chewing, looking for something more interesting.
6. The dog spitted out the rubber ball after realizing it was not food.
7. She accidentally spitted her drink when she heard the funny joke.
8. In frustration, he spitted the words out as quickly as he could.
9. The chef spitted the marinated chicken onto the grill for a perfect sear.
10. After the argument, he spitted out a few harsh words he later regretted.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spitted>