

SPLUTTERER

Meaning: SPLUTTERER: a person or thing that makes a series of short, explosive sounds or speaks in a hesitant, stammering manner.

1. The old engine was a notorious splutterer, coughing and wheezing as it struggled to start.
2. During the presentation, his nervousness made him a splutterer, causing him to stammer through his points.
3. She was known as a splutterer, often getting so excited that her words would come out in a jumbled mess.
4. The car's splutterer engine indicated that it needed some serious maintenance before the trip.
5. At the poetry reading, the splutterer behind the microphone charmed the audience with his unfiltered enthusiasm.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/splutterer>