

SPOIL

Meaning: SPOIL (verb): to damage or ruin something, often rendering it unfit for use or enjoyment.

1. The children were afraid that the rain would spoil their outdoor picnic.
2. If you leave the milk out too long, it will spoil and smell terrible.
3. She tried to avoid spoiling the surprise party by not mentioning it to anyone.
4. Overeating can spoil your appetite for healthier meals later in the day.
5. The actor's bad behavior off-screen began to spoil his once-gilded reputation.
6. If you leave the milk out too long, it will spoil.
7. Overindulging in sweets can spoil a child's appetite for healthy foods.
8. The surprise party was planned meticulously to avoid anything that might spoil the fun.
9. Heavy rain can spoil a planned outdoor event, forcing everyone to move indoors.
10. His harsh criticism threatened to spoil her enthusiasm for the project.
11. The rain might spoil our plans for a picnic in the park.
12. Too much sugar can spoil the flavor of the dish.
13. He was worried that his carelessness would spoil the surprise party.
14. Overcooking the vegetables will spoil their vibrant color and crunch.
15. If you don't store the fruit properly, it will spoil quickly.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/spoil>