

STATISTICALLY

Meaning: Statistically refers to something that is based on or derived from statistical analysis or data.

1. Statistically, women are more likely to pursue higher education than men in many countries.
2. The results were statistically significant, indicating a strong correlation between the two variables.
3. Statistically speaking, the average lifespan has increased over the past century due to medical advancements.
4. The study showed that, statistically, urban areas experience higher crime rates compared to rural ones.
5. Statistically, children who read regularly perform better in school than those who do not.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/statistically>