

STEREOCHROMIC

Meaning: Stereo-chromic refers to the use of colors that change or appear differently based on lighting conditions, creating dynamic visual effects in art and design.

1. The artist's stereo-chromic technique transformed the dull canvas into a vibrant spectacle of color.
2. In the world of design, stereo-chromic elements can create dynamic environments that change perception based on light.
3. He marveled at how the stereo-chromic patterns shifted with the angle of observation, revealing hidden depths.
4. The new exhibition featured stereo-chromic installations that captivated visitors with their ever-changing hues.
5. Scientists are exploring stereo-chromic materials for potential applications in advanced display technologies.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/stereochromic>