

STILL-CLOSING

Meaning: Still-closing refers to something that is in the process of closing or shutting, often implying a lingering or gradual action.

1. The still-closing door left an eerie silence in the room.
2. As the still-closing curtains fluttered gently, the sunlight dimmed.
3. She gazed at the still-closing book, lost in thought about its ending.
4. The still-closing gap between them felt like an insurmountable distance.
5. With the still-closing lid of the box, secrets were forever locked away.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/still-closing>