

STONE-BLIND

Meaning: Stone-blind refers to being completely blind or unable to see, often used metaphorically to denote a lack of awareness or insight regarding a situation.

1. She was stone-blind to the consequences of her actions, oblivious to the turmoil it would cause.
2. The old man lived in a world of silence and darkness, having been stone-blind for over a decade.
3. Despite being stone-blind, he navigated his surroundings with an ease that astonished everyone around him.
4. His stone-blind faith in the system led him to ignore all the warning signs that were evident to others.
5. The artist painted vivid landscapes, channeling his stone-blind imagination into every brushstroke.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/stone-blind>