

STREPTONEURA

Meaning: Streptoneura is a major group of mollusks distinguished by specific anatomical features and significant for studying evolutionary relationships within the phylum.

1. Streptoneura encompasses a significant group within the mollusks, characterized by their unique anatomical features.
2. The classification of Streptoneura helps scientists understand the evolutionary relationships among different mollusk species.
3. In studying Streptoneura, researchers have discovered fascinating insights into their respiratory and reproductive systems.
4. The diversity found within Streptoneura highlights the adaptability of these organisms to various marine environments.
5. Streptoneura is often contrasted with other molluscan groups due to its distinct morphological traits.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/streptoneura>