

STRIDULATORY

Meaning: Stridulatory refers to the production of sound by rubbing body parts together, typically seen in insects like crickets and katydids to attract mates or communicate.

1. The stridulatory sounds of the crickets filled the warm summer night.
2. During the mating season, male katydids engage in stridulatory behavior to attract females.
3. Researchers studied the stridulatory mechanisms of various insects to understand their communication methods.
4. The stridulatory call of the cicada can be heard echoing through the forest during dusk.
5. She was fascinated by the stridulatory patterns that varied between different species of grasshoppers.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/stridulatory>