

STRINGCOURSE

Meaning: A stringcourse is a horizontal band or molding that runs along the exterior of a building, often serving a decorative purpose.

1. The stringcourse of the building adds a decorative element to its facade.
2. During the restoration, they decided to highlight the original stringcourse with a contrasting paint color.
3. The architect emphasized the importance of the stringcourse in maintaining the historical integrity of the structure.
4. In traditional masonry, a stringcourse serves as a visual break between different sections of a wall.
5. The stringcourse not only enhances the aesthetic appeal but also provides structural support in some designs.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/stringcourse>