

STUPOR

Meaning: STUPOR: a state of near-unconsciousness or insensibility, often characterized by a lack of awareness or responsiveness.

1. She woke from her stupor, realizing hours had passed since she last checked the time.
2. The news of his sudden resignation left the entire team in a state of stupor, unable to comprehend the change.
3. After the long, exhausting meeting, he sat back in his chair, lost in a stupor of fatigue and confusion.
4. The shock of the accident plunged her into a stupor, making it difficult to process what had just happened.
5. Despite the chaos around him, he remained in a stupor, as if the world had faded away.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/stupor>