

SUBGROUP

Meaning: A subgroup is a smaller, distinct group within a larger group, often categorized by specific characteristics or criteria.

1. The research team divided the participants into a subgroup based on their age and health status.
2. In the study, a subgroup of patients showed a significant improvement after the treatment.
3. Each subgroup of the population exhibited unique characteristics that warranted further investigation.
4. We need to analyze the subgroup data to determine if there are any significant trends.
5. The subgroup meetings will focus on specific issues that affect only a portion of the larger community.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/subgroup>