

SUBREPTION

Meaning: Subreption is the act of deceitfully presenting false or misleading information, particularly in legal or argumentative contexts.

1. Subreption can often lead to misunderstandings in legal arguments.
2. The politician's subreption of the facts undermined his credibility with the public.
3. In literature, subreption can be used to create dramatic irony and tension.
4. The scientist warned against subreption in research, emphasizing the importance of transparency.
5. Her subreption during the negotiations resulted in a failed agreement.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/subreption>