

SUBSULTORILY

Meaning: In a manner characterized by quick, bounding movements or leaps.

1. The athlete moved subsultorily across the field, demonstrating his agility and speed.
2. During the performance, the dancer leaped subsultorily, captivating the audience with her grace.
3. The rabbit darted subsultorily through the underbrush, evading the watchful eyes of predators.
4. In the quiet of the forest, the deer bounded subsultorily, leaving no trace of its presence.
5. His thoughts flickered subsultorily, jumping from one idea to another with relentless energy.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/subsultorily>