

SUBTROPICAL

Meaning: Subtropical refers to a climate zone characterized by warm temperatures, typically with mild winters and hot summers, supporting diverse plant life.

1. The subtropical climate of the region allows for a diverse array of plant life to thrive.
2. Many subtropical areas experience mild winters and hot summers, making them popular tourist destinations.
3. Farmers in subtropical zones often grow crops like oranges and avocados due to the favorable weather conditions.
4. The subtropical forests are home to a wide variety of wildlife, including many species that are not found elsewhere.
5. As climate patterns shift, some temperate regions may gradually transition into subtropical climates over time.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/subtropical>