

SUPPLICANT

Meaning: A suppliant is a person who earnestly and humbly requests something, often in a religious or desperate context.

1. The suppliant knelt before the altar, seeking mercy and guidance.
2. In a world where power often reigns supreme, the true suppliant is one who humbly asks for help.
3. She approached the council as a suppliant, her heart heavy with the weight of her plea.
4. The king listened intently to the suppliant's story, moved by the sincerity of her words.
5. Despite his high status, he often found himself in the role of a suppliant, yearning for understanding and connection.
6. The king listened patiently to the pleas of the suppliant before making his decision.
7. In ancient times, a suppliant would often seek the favor of the gods through prayer and offerings.
8. As a humble suppliant, she approached the altar, seeking guidance and strength for her trials.
9. The village elders welcomed the suppliant, offering him food and shelter in exchange for his wisdom.
10. Despite being a powerful leader, he never turned away a suppliant in need of assistance.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/suppliant>