

SURREBOUND

Meaning: SURREBOUND (verb): To recover or bounce back resiliently from a setback or adverse situation.

1. The athlete managed to surrebound after a disappointing loss, showing resilience and determination.
2. During the storm, the trees seemed to surrebound, their branches bending but not breaking.
3. After a period of self-doubt, she began to surrebound in her career, gaining confidence and new opportunities.
4. The economy is expected to surrebound next year as consumer confidence returns and spending increases.
5. In the face of adversity, the community came together to surrebound, demonstrating their strength and unity.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/surrebound>