

SWOUND

Meaning: Swound: a state of being overwhelmed or enraptured, often to the point of faintness or loss of consciousness.

1. The ancient poet wrote of a love so deep that it left her feeling swound.
2. As the final notes of the symphony echoed, the audience sat swound in their seats.
3. She felt a wave of emotion wash over her, leaving her momentarily swound with joy.
4. The beauty of the sunset was so striking that it left him swound and speechless.
5. After the shocking news, he stood swound, struggling to comprehend what he had just heard.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/swound>