

TATTER

Meaning: TATTER (noun): a torn piece of cloth or fabric.

1. The old flag hung limply, reduced to a mere tatter after years of exposure to the elements.
2. As she rummaged through the attic, she found a tatter of her childhood blanket, faded and frayed.
3. His clothes were nothing but tatter, barely holding together after weeks of traveling in the wilderness.
4. The once vibrant painting was now just a tatter on the wall, its colors washed out by time.
5. Despite being a tatter, the quilt held precious memories that warmed her heart.
6. The old quilt lay in tatters, a testament to years of use and love.
7. He wore a tattered coat that had seen better days but still held warmth.
8. Amid the ruins of the once-grand mansion, only tattered curtains fluttered in the breeze.
9. She picked up the tattered book, its pages yellowed and edges frayed, and smiled at the memories it held.
10. The children's laughter echoed as they played with a tattered soccer ball in the dusty field.
11. The child's favorite teddy bear was nothing but a tatter, its once vibrant fur now frayed and faded.
12. As the storm raged outside, the old flag hung limply, a tatter barely holding onto the mast.
13. She wore a coat made of tatter, stitched together from pieces of cloth that told countless stories.
14. In the abandoned house, they discovered a tatter of a quilt, a remnant of the home that once was.
15. His dreams were tatter, scattered like the remnants of a forgotten life, but he still held onto hope.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/tatter>