

TELEMETEOROGRAPH

Meaning: A telemeteorograph is an instrument used to measure and record atmospheric pressure and other meteorological data over time.

1. The telemeteorograph recorded the changes in atmospheric pressure throughout the storm.
2. Researchers rely on the telemeteorograph to gather data for their climate studies.
3. With the telemeteorograph installed on the roof, the scientists can monitor weather patterns in real-time.
4. Using a telemeteorograph, meteorologists can accurately predict severe weather events days in advance.
5. The telemeteorograph provides a comprehensive overview of temperature and humidity fluctuations over time.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/telemeteorograph>