

TEMPERATIVE

Meaning: 'TEMPERATIVE' refers to something characterized by a tendency to fluctuate or change, particularly in mood or behavior.

1. The project was delayed due to the temperative nature of the negotiations.
2. Her temperative response to criticism often left her colleagues feeling uneasy.
3. In the debate, he made a temperative argument that swayed public opinion.
4. Understanding the temperative aspects of his personality helped us communicate better.
5. The temperative adjustments in the policy were necessary to meet the changing demands.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/temperative>