

TERGIVERSATOR

Meaning: Tergiversator: a person who shifts opinions or principles frequently, often to avoid commitment or to deceive.

1. The politician was often criticized as a tergiversator, shifting his position on key issues to suit his audience.
2. In debates, she proved to be a skilled tergiversator, evading direct questions with ease and ambiguity.
3. His tergiversator tendencies frustrated his colleagues, who valued clear and consistent communication.
4. Rather than taking a firm stand, he chose to be a tergiversator, navigating the complexities of public opinion.
5. The novel's protagonist was a master tergiversator, using clever rhetoric to mask his true intentions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/tergiversator>