

THEOLOGIZE

Meaning: Theologize: to engage in the study or discussion of religious beliefs and doctrines, often exploring their implications and complexities.

1. Many scholars begin to theologize when confronted with the complexities of existence.
2. During the seminar, they sought to theologize the implications of modern faith practices.
3. He often found himself in deep discussions, eager to theologize about the intersection of science and religion.
4. In her writings, she did not shy away from the task of theologizing difficult moral questions.
5. To theologize effectively, one must engage with both historical texts and contemporary beliefs.
6. Many scholars gather each year to theologize about the role of faith in modern society.
7. In his latest book, he attempts to theologize the complexities of human suffering through a spiritual lens.
8. The pastor encouraged the youth group to theologize their personal experiences with doubt and belief.
9. When discussing morality, it is essential to theologize the principles that guide our decisions and actions.
10. She often found herself in deep conversations with friends who loved to theologize over coffee and pastries.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/theologize>