

TIPPLE

Meaning: Tipple (verb): to drink alcohol, especially in small quantities; (noun) a favorite alcoholic beverage.

1. She enjoyed a quiet evening at home with a glass of wine, her favorite tipple.
2. After a long week, they decided to unwind at the local pub and tipple their favorite craft beers.
3. He always had a tipple before dinner to help him relax and enjoy the meal.
4. The quaint tavern was known for its extensive list of tipples, attracting both locals and tourists.
5. During the celebration, everyone raised their glasses to toast with their favorite tipple in hand.
6. After a long week at work, he liked to tipple a glass of whiskey to unwind.
7. The local pub was known for its cozy atmosphere and a wide selection of tipples.
8. She decided to tipple some wine while enjoying the sunset on her porch.
9. During the holiday party, everyone gathered around to tipple their favorite festive drinks.
10. He was careful not to tipple too much, knowing he had an early start the next day.
11. After a long week at work, he decided to tipple a glass of his favorite red wine.
12. The quaint pub was known for its cozy atmosphere, where locals would tipple together after hours.
13. She enjoyed a quiet evening at home, tipping a refreshing cocktail while reading her book.
14. During the celebration, guests felt free to tipple whatever drinks were offered at the open bar.
15. His fondness for craft beer led him to tipple different brews from local breweries every weekend.