

TITANIFEROUS

Meaning: Titaniferous refers to containing or yielding titanium, especially in the context of geological deposits or rocks.

1. The geologist excitedly presented her findings on the titanic rocks that were deemed titaniferous in nature.
2. After extensive research, the team discovered that the titaniferous deposits could revolutionize the steel industry.
3. The presence of titaniferous minerals in the area attracted the attention of several mining companies.
4. In the documentary, they explored how titaniferous ores are essential for producing certain high-strength alloys.
5. The unique properties of titaniferous substances make them invaluable in the field of materials science.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/titaniferous>