

TITUBATION

Meaning: Titubation refers to a condition characterized by unsteady or shaky movements, particularly when walking, often associated with neurological disorders or intoxication.

1. The patient's titubation was a concerning symptom that puzzled the neurologist.
2. After a night of heavy drinking, he exhibited mild titubation as he tried to walk straight.
3. Titubation can often be mistaken for simple clumsiness, but it has specific neurological implications.
4. Her titubation became more pronounced when she was anxious, highlighting the need for a thorough evaluation.
5. In some cases, titubation may be a sign of an underlying condition affecting balance and coordination.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/titubation>