

To be more specific

Meaning: The phrase 'to be more specific' is used to clarify or provide additional detail about a statement.

1. I enjoyed the movie, but to be more specific, I loved the cinematography.
2. She said she would help, but to be more specific, she can only assist on weekends.
3. The report was informative; to be more specific, the data on sales was particularly useful.
4. I like fruit, and to be more specific, I really enjoy strawberries and blueberries.
5. The teacher explained the concept well, but to be more specific, she used real-life examples.
6. He mentioned several countries he wants to visit, but to be more specific, he is particularly interested in Japan and Italy.
7. The park is beautiful; to be more specific, the rose garden is the highlight of the area.
8. I appreciate your feedback, but to be more specific, I would like your thoughts on the introduction.
9. The presentation was good, but to be more specific, the statistics presented were very compelling.
10. She loves art; to be more specific, she has a passion for modern abstract paintings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/to+be+more+specific>