

TORRENT

Meaning: A torrent is a sudden, intense, and overwhelming flow or rush, often referring to a large amount of water or a powerful surge of feelings.

1. The torrent of rain flooded the streets, leaving cars stranded.
2. She felt a torrent of emotions as she watched her childhood home burn.
3. After the storm, a torrent of muddy water rushed down the hillside.
4. The novelist unleashed a torrent of creativity, finishing three chapters in a single evening.
5. His speech was met with a torrent of applause, echoing throughout the auditorium.
6. The torrent of rain transformed the quiet street into a rushing river.
7. She felt a torrent of emotions as she watched her child graduate.
8. The river swelled into a torrent after the heavy storm, threatening nearby homes.
9. He opened the floodgates, releasing a torrent of ideas that inspired the entire team.
10. The author's words flowed like a torrent, captivating readers from the very first page.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/torrent>