

TORTURINGLY

Meaning: TORTURINGLY (adverb): in a manner that causes intense discomfort or distress, especially through prolonged anticipation or delay.

1. The wait for the results was torturingly long, stretching into hours without any news.
2. She watched the clock, each tick torturingly reminding her of the time slipping away.
3. His memories of the past haunted him torturingly, replaying moments he'd rather forget.
4. The lecture dragged on torturingly, with the professor's monotone voice blending into a dull hum.
5. Despite her efforts to focus, the pain in her leg was torturingly distracting.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/torturingly>