

TOWN-CRIER

Meaning: A town-crier is an official who makes public announcements in a community, often using a bell to attract attention.

1. The town-crier stood at the market square, ringing his bell to gather the crowd.
2. As the town-crier announced the festival dates, excitement buzzed through the streets.
3. In medieval times, the town-crier was a vital source of news for the community.
4. With a booming voice, the town-crier proclaimed the arrival of the new governor.
5. The town-crier's colorful costume added to the spectacle of the annual celebration.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/town-crier>