

TRANSFUSIBLE

Meaning: Transfusible refers to the capability of a substance, especially blood or cells, to be safely transferred from one individual to another for medical purposes.

1. Blood that is properly typed and screened is deemed transfusable for patients in need of urgent surgery.
2. Researchers are exploring new methods to make stem cells more readily transfusable for therapeutic applications.
3. The hospital's blood bank ensures that all donated blood is transfusable and safe for use in patients.
4. Transfusible plasma can provide essential clotting factors for individuals suffering from severe injuries.
5. It is crucial to assess the compatibility of transfusable components to prevent adverse reactions in recipients.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/transfusible>