

TRANSLITERATION

Meaning: Transliteration is the process of converting text from one writing system into another by representing the original sounds with corresponding characters from a different alphabet.

1. Transliteration allows speakers of one language to read the sounds of another language using their own alphabet.
2. The process of transliteration can sometimes lead to confusion due to variations in pronunciation.
3. In academic settings, proper transliteration is crucial for accurately representing foreign names and terms.
4. She learned the basics of transliteration to better understand the original texts in their native scripts.
5. The transliteration of Sanskrit words into English can vary significantly depending on the system used.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/transliteration>