

TRANSLOCATION

Meaning: Translocation is the process of moving organisms from one habitat to another to aid in their conservation and survival.

1. The conservation project focused on the translocation of endangered species to restore the ecosystem.
2. Translocation involves moving organisms from one habitat to another to ensure their survival.
3. Researchers studied the effects of translocation on the behavior of recently relocated animals.
4. The translocation process requires careful planning to minimize stress on the species involved.
5. Successful translocation can lead to increased genetic diversity in isolated populations.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/translocation>