

TREBLE

Meaning: Treble (verb): to increase or multiply something threefold.

1. The musician decided to treble his efforts in practice to prepare for the upcoming concert.
2. In a surprising twist, the stock prices began to treble after the announcement of the merger.
3. The choir's harmonies were enhanced when they added a treble part to the existing bass and alto lines.
4. She felt a treble of excitement as she opened the letter that contained her acceptance into the prestigious program.
5. To create a richer sound, the producer asked the artist to treble the lead vocals in the final mix.
6. The musician decided to play the piece in treble to create a lighter, more uplifting sound.
7. Her voice soared in treble, filling the room with a bright and cheerful melody.
8. In soccer, the team achieved a treble this season by winning the league, cup, and a continental championship.
9. The composer added a treble harmony to enrich the overall texture of the song.
10. He was thrilled to discover that his investment had tripled, effectively giving him a treble return.
11. The musician decided to treble the tempo of the piece for a more energetic performance.
12. In the world of finance, the investor managed to treble his initial investment within just a few years.
13. Her excitement seemed to treble when she heard the news of her promotion at work.
14. The composer arranged the symphony for a treble choir, highlighting the soaring melodies.
15. During the match, the team's score managed to treble in just a few minutes, shocking the spectators.
16. The musician decided to treble the tempo of the piece to create a more energetic performance.
17. In their latest product line, the company promised to treble the efficiency of their energy-saving appliances.
18. He managed to treble his savings by investing wisely over the past few years.

19. The choir's harmonies were beautifully arranged, featuring a treble that soared above the rest.
20. To ensure clarity in the presentation, she spoke in a treble voice that commanded attention.
21. The musician decided to treble the volume of the track to create a more immersive experience.
22. In mathematics, you can treble a number by simply multiplying it by three.
23. The choir's performance was breathtaking, especially when the soprano's voice hit the treble notes.
24. To encourage growth, the gardener applied a special fertilizer that promised to treble the yield of crops.
25. After the unexpected success of the campaign, the company saw its profits treble in just one quarter.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com
<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/treble>