

TRICHIURIFORM

Meaning: Trichuiform refers to a structure or pattern resembling hair or hair-like features, often observed in biological contexts such as wing patterns or cellular formations.

1. The rare trichuiform patterns observed in the butterfly's wings fascinated the entomologists.
2. Researchers discovered a trichuiform structure within the cells, leading to new insights into cellular biology.
3. The trichuiform classification helped scientists categorize various species of algae in their study.
4. Her expertise in trichuiform morphology made her a valuable contributor to the research team.
5. The conference featured a presentation on the significance of trichuiform forms in evolutionary biology.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/trichiuriform>