

TRIGLYPH

Meaning: A triglyph is a decorative architectural element characterized by three vertical grooves, commonly found in the frieze of classical temples, positioned between metopes.

1. The frieze of the ancient temple was adorned with intricate triglyphs that added to its grandeur.
2. In classical architecture, a triglyph serves as a decorative element that is typically found between metopes.
3. The restoration project aimed to replicate the original triglyphs, ensuring historical accuracy and aesthetic appeal.
4. Architects often study triglyphs to understand the symbolic meanings embedded in ancient designs.
5. The museum's exhibit featured a detailed analysis of the triglyphs used in various iconic structures across Greece.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/triglyph>