

TRIPHYLINE

Meaning: Triphyline is a mineral composed of lithium, iron, manganese, and phosphate, noted for its unique crystal structure and potential applications in materials science.

1. Triphyline is often studied for its potential applications in the field of materials science.
2. The mineral triphyline is known for its unique crystal structure and properties.
3. Researchers conducted experiments to better understand the thermal stability of triphyline.
4. In gemology, triphyline's rarity makes it a sought-after specimen among collectors.
5. The geological survey revealed significant deposits of triphyline in the region.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/triphyline>