

TRIPINNATIFID

Meaning: Tripinnatifid refers to a type of leaf that is divided into three finely segmented lobes or parts, typical of certain ferns.

1. The elusive tripinnatifid leaves of the fern added an exotic touch to the garden.
2. Botanists were excited to discover a rare tripinnatifid species in the rainforest.
3. In her research paper, she described the tripinnatifid structure as crucial for the plant's adaptation.
4. The tripinnatifid form of the leaf allowed for increased light absorption in the dense forest.
5. During the field study, they noted the intricate patterns of the tripinnatifid foliage.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/tripinnatifid>