

TRIVIAL

Meaning: Trivial: of little significance or importance; insignificant.

1. The argument seemed trivial in the grand scheme of things.
2. She dismissed his concerns as trivial and unworthy of her time.
3. Despite its trivial appearance, the task required careful attention to detail.
4. Many people overlook the trivial aspects of life that bring true joy.
5. He focused on trivial matters instead of addressing the more pressing issues.
6. The debate over which toppings to choose for pizza seemed trivial compared to the bigger issues at hand.
7. She dismissed his concerns as trivial, believing that they were not worth her time.
8. While the task appeared trivial, it required a surprising amount of attention to detail.
9. He felt that their argument was trivial and wished they could focus on more important matters.
10. In the grand scheme of life, many problems we face are often trivial and easily resolved.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/trivial>