

TURACOVERDIN

Meaning: Turacoverdin is a green pigment found in the feathers of certain birds, known for its contribution to their vibrant coloration and its significance in avian biology.

1. Turacoverdin is a pigment found in the feathers of certain birds, contributing to their vibrant green coloration.
2. Researchers have studied turacoverdin to understand its role in avian biology and its potential applications in biotechnology.
3. The unique structure of turacoverdin allows it to absorb light in a way that enhances the brightness of the feathers.
4. Artists have sought to replicate the vivid hues of turacoverdin in their paintings, inspired by its natural beauty.
5. In the wild, species with turacoverdin often have more success in attracting mates due to their striking appearance.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/turacoverdin>