

TYPHUS

Meaning: Typhus is an infectious disease caused by bacteria, typically transmitted by lice or fleas, characterized by symptoms such as fever, headache, and rash, often associated with poor sanitation.

1. Typhus outbreaks have historically been linked to unsanitary living conditions.
2. The symptoms of typhus can include fever, headache, and rash.
3. During wartime, typhus has caused significant mortality among soldiers in cramped quarters.
4. Vaccination and proper hygiene are essential for preventing typhus in endemic areas.
5. Research into typhus continues to focus on better treatments and understanding its transmission.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/typhus>