

UNATONABLE

Meaning: Unatonaable: impossible to make amends for or to atone for; irredeemable.

1. His actions were so egregious that they seemed utterly unatonaable in the eyes of his peers.
2. The judge ruled that the defendant's crime was unatonaable, leaving no room for redemption.
3. In her mind, the betrayal was unatonaable, leaving her heart heavy with unresolved grief.
4. Some mistakes in life are unatonaable, haunting us long after they've been made.
5. The philosophy he embraced suggested that certain sins could be deemed unatonaable, casting a shadow over his beliefs.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unatonaable>