

UNBEREFT

Meaning: Unbereft means not deprived of or lacking something, often used to describe a state of fullness or abundance in feelings or memories.

1. She walked through the empty house, feeling unbereft despite the memories that lingered in every corner.
2. The unbereft spirit of the festival filled the air, reminding everyone of the joy they once shared.
3. After the breakup, he felt unbereft, as if a piece of his identity had been lost in the process.
4. Her laughter echoed in the room, making it hard to believe she was unbereft of happiness.
5. In the unbereft landscape of winter, the stark beauty of nature shone through the silence.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/unbereft>