

UNCHARM

Meaning: Uncharm (verb): to remove or diminish the charm, appeal, or attractiveness of someone or something.

1. The harsh criticism from her peers seemed to uncharm the once-enthusiastic speaker.
2. His constant negativity did nothing but uncharm the entire group during the meeting.
3. The uncharming reality of the situation dawned on him as he faced the consequences of his actions.
4. She found that the uncharming atmosphere of the party made her want to leave early.
5. Despite his best efforts, his rude remarks uncharmed the audience and ended the night on a sour note.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/uncharm>