

UNDERDO

Meaning: To underdo means to do something insufficiently or to a lesser degree than necessary, often resulting in inadequate outcomes or preservation of quality.

1. He tended to underdo his efforts in the gym, resulting in minimal progress.
2. The chef decided to underdo the steak to keep it juicy and tender.
3. Despite the pressure, she chose to underdo her makeup for a more natural look.
4. They often underdo their presentations, thinking less is more, but it sometimes backfires.
5. In his haste to finish the project, he ended up underdoing several key elements.
6. If you consistently underdo your workouts, you won't see the progress you desire.
7. The chef warned that it's easy to underdo the seasoning when preparing a new dish.
8. In her attempt to save money, she decided to underdo the decorations for the event.
9. He tends to underdo his presentations, often leaving out important details.
10. To avoid burnout, sometimes it's better to underdo your commitments rather than overextend yourself.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/underdo>